Metal Fabrication

Description: Custom Metal Fabrication

Maritime Group Corp. has the complete facilities and fabricators to manufacture and install many of the metal components for your roofing requirements. We can make all types of galvanized, aluminum or specialty metal roofing products; including metal flashings, counter flashing, vent stacks, pitch pans, metal valleys, custom equipment housings and both conventional and scupper drain assemblies.

These in-house capabilities also enable us to respond quickly and cost-effectively to everyday or specialized requirements for your new roof construction or re-roofing projects. We can prevent the frustration, delays and expenses that result from those hard-to-find parts, or unique replacement/retro-fit situations. If your particular component or part isn't available from our well stocked inventory, we can make one as needed. The resulting time and cost savings are reflected in Maritime Group Corp's contracting and construction services, and ultimately in your bottom-line project costs.

We can also provide custom metal fabrication and design services for a variety of commercial and industrial uses. Please contact our office to discuss your project requirements.
